

GOLF RULINGS ON PUTTERS

C. B. MACDONALD GIVES FACTS IN SUCCINCT MANNER.

Also Notes Where Trivia and Other Critics Have Been Mistaken. A Distinction Pointed Out Between New Rule and the Marginal Notes. All the Facts.

An encyclopedic analysis of the difference between the St. Andrews and the United States ideas regarding the new rule of the Royal and Ancient committee, binding on loyal golfers throughout the world, has been submitted in a letter to Secretary Watson of the United States Golf Association by C. B. Macdonald, first amateur golf champion here, a former U. S. G. A. official, twice on the American committee to interpret the St. Andrews code and now as a St. Andrews member one of the Royal and Ancient rules committee.

"My only interest is to see that the American golfers have the things put to them straight," said Mr. Macdonald. "The action taken on the knowledge of the facts is no concern of mine. Personally I accept the new rule line, hook and sinker, and I hope our players will do so until it is modified, for I do not approve of the spirit back of the rule. But it is paramount to me that golf should be played by the same rules in all countries, whether in India, the Antipodes, or in Great Britain, the United States or the Catholic Church is always the same, so in my mind should golfers everywhere be united by the same set of rules."

The letter follows in part:

R. C. Watson, Esq., Secretary United States Golf Association, New York City.

DEAR SIR: Various letters and articles which I have read commenting upon my letter of December 2, 1910, giving "a history of the facts relating to the new rule of the Royal and Ancient Club," shows me it has created some confusion in the minds of many influential golfers. In view of this I desire herein to enlarge upon my former letter and give the facts in detail.

After the rules of golf committee ruled upon the question presented by the New York Golf Club of New Zealand.

With regard to form and make of golf club it is permissible to use a small croquet mallet to put with.

The ruling being:

A small croquet mallet is not a golf club and is inadmissible.

The Pickering Golf Club in September, 1909 (Query No. 71), asked the following question:

In a stroke competition a competitor used a putter made in the form of a croquet mallet. Is he disqualified?

The reply to this was as follows:

The rules of golf committee is of the opinion that the time has come for the Royal and Ancient Golf Club to decide on a general meeting whether the various mallet head putters should be permitted in use or not.

The rules of golf committee is of the opinion that it is not allowable to use the vertical croquet stroke as a method of putting. It considers that it is much to be deplored that players instead of endeavoring to master the use of golf clubs should endeavor to overcome the difficulties of the game by using implements which have never been associated with it.

That decision was published in October, 1909.

The next official communication on this subject is dated April 8, 1910, and the following is a copy of the letter:

In reply to the Pickering Golf Club, No. 71, the committee has undertaken to submit to the general meeting in May the question of mallet headed clubs. The following motion has been drafted by the sub-committee to meet the question. The motion requires to be given notice of by the 15th inst.

Motion by the rules of golf committee referred to:

That the rules of golf committee be amended to add to the list of clubs, from and make of golf clubs which will be permitted to be used in the game of golf, a mallet headed type of club, provided the mallet head is not larger than a golf club head, and provided the mallet head is not larger than a golf club head, and provided the mallet head is not larger than a golf club head.

Under date of April 18, 1910, the Royal and Ancient Golf Club sent out notice of their spring meeting to be held May 3, 1910, at the club house, New York City.

Motion by the rules of golf committee referred to:

That the rules of golf committee be empowered to add to the list of clubs, from and make of golf clubs which will be permitted to be used in the game of golf, a mallet headed type of club, provided the mallet head is not larger than a golf club head, and provided the mallet head is not larger than a golf club head, and provided the mallet head is not larger than a golf club head.

The following is an excerpt from the minutes of the general meeting of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club, dated September 26, 1910.

I am requested by the rules of golf committee to inform you that the committee has decided to add to the list of clubs, from and make of golf clubs which will be permitted to be used in the game of golf, a mallet headed type of club, provided the mallet head is not larger than a golf club head, and provided the mallet head is not larger than a golf club head, and provided the mallet head is not larger than a golf club head.

Newtown High School took its first tumble in the basketball tournament of the P. S. A. L. yesterday afternoon at the Forty-seventh Regiment armory. The visitors played more on the defense in the second period, and the Midshipmen, securing 12 points to the visitors' 8, and once being a goal ahead.

STRONG WIND SPOILS SCORES AT TRAVERS ISLAND.

Tom Lennane, Jr., Only Member With Straight Score. Dr. De Wolf Wins Leg on Haslin Cup—Creosote Marksmen in Many Events—Excess Shoots.

A strong wind which blew in on the Sound yesterday spoiled the shooting at Travers Island so much that during the afternoon there was only one straight score. Tom Lennane, Jr., was the shooter to hang up the figures and he did the trick in the shoot-off for the tournament cup. He was three times the winner of two targets, but as he went along without a miss he completed the clean break of 25 without the handicap. In the first session four men tied, as Lennane, Gus Lembeck, C. W. Billings, W. B. O'Brien, Jr., and the late named left behind Lennane in the shoot-off. For Lennane established himself as the topnotcher for the event there was another shoot-off with Gus Lembeck being the challenger, with Gus Lembeck as the defender. They both shot from the third target mark and Lembeck won by three targets.

As far as the high gun honors went matters were even, there being a different winner in every one of the six events. Dr. De Wolf, the Jersey City expert, who shot from scratch right through, earned the top score in the practice shoot by shattering 22 out of the 25. Dr. De Wolf gained the leg on the Haslin cup with the perfect score of 25, aided by an advantage of 100 yards in the leg on the Haslin cup.

Dr. De Wolf, who with an allowance of 100 yards gained a perfect score of 25, was the winner of the Haslin cup with three he made the full tally of 25. The leg on the Haslin cup was cleverly won by C. W. Billings. The scores:
